INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT AND LOGISTICS

60 ECTS

High-quality education in Kymenlaakson ammattikorkeakoulu (UAS)

Kymenlaakson ammattikorkeakoulu, University of Applied Sciences (UAS) is a Finnish multidisciplinary institute of higher education that produces high-quality professional expertise in close co-operation with working life as well as other organizations of education, training, and research. The core competences are logistics, international business, and health care.

International studies in management and logistics

The UAS arranges yearly studies in industrial management and logistics in its technology campus in Kotka. The language of instruction is English. The courses are chosen to suit not only industrial management and logistics students but also students in the field of technology and engineering.

Meet students from different countries

Kymenlaakson ammattikorkeakoulu receives annually approximately 150 foreign students. The exchange students of Industrial Management and Logistics come for example from Germany, Russia, Poland, the Netherlands, Latvia, Czech and Bulgaria. The Finnish students attend the same courses, too!
